Court-Martial For Civilians Ruled as Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled today that civilian employees attached to the U. S. armed forces abroad may legally be tried by court-martial.

His decision upheld the constitutionality of a provision of the Uniform Code of Military Justice giving military courts jurisdiction to try such civilians.

Holtzoff noted that the precise question has never been passed upon by the U. S. Supreme Court. He said, however, that other federal courts have uniformly held that civilian employees serving with the armed forces outside of the territorial jurisdiction of the United States may be subjected to courts-martial.

Holtzoff handed down his ruling in the case of Dominic Guagliardo, 25, of Tampa, Fla., who was convicted by a court-martial in Morocco for grand larceny and sentenced to three years.

The paper said dissident military and political leaders met last week in Padang, capital of central Sumatra, to discuss the issue.

Earlier reports said plans were afoot in Sumatra to set up a separate state there.

Commenting on the reports, army headquarters in Jakarta warned that severe action would be taken against anyone involved in move to disintegrate the central republic.

Commissioners Meet, Discuss Cline's Suit

The Pickaway County Commissioners met in special session today in their office in the County Courthouse. Besides approving claims against the county they met with legal advisor County Prosecutor Ray Davis, and discussed the writ of mandamus filed against them yesterday by Probate Judge Guy G. Cline.

Cline's petition demanded that the Commissioners approve his requested 1958 budget for $14,420 instead of the appropriated amount — $8,520. According to certain county officials few writs have ever been filed in the State of Ohio.

The commissioners stated that no action will be taken at the present time, but that some decision may be reached by the end of the week.

ANOTHER KIND OF BOOKING — Actress Sarah Churchill, 41-year-old daughter of former British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, is restrained by sheriff's deputies in the Los Angeles Hall of Justice after her arrest on a drunk charge. Officers said she cursed and battered them, ripping the shirt and jacket off one officer.

Churchill's Daughter Is Accused Drunk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill, red-haired daughter of the British statesman, will be arraigned in court in Malibu Beach Thursday on a charge of being drunk.

Miss Churchill, jailed five hours Monday, has denied the charge, saying she will plead innocent. Sheriff's deputies said they were called to the Malibu home of the 44-year-old actress in a complaint by the General Telephone Co. that she used profane and obscene language over the phone.

The company asserted the language was used in calls to several persons, including one with a phone company employee.

The deputies said Miss Churchill greeted them with, "What the hell do you want?" and that they found kitchen curtains torn down, lipstick smeared on the refrigerator and contents of her purse scattered.

The officers said they took the daughter of Sir Winston Churchill to a station only after she had climbed into their car holding a glass of rum and resisted their efforts to get her out.

At a substitution, they related, it took two male officers and a matron to subdue her.

She was booked under the name of Sarah Beauchamp, which was the name of her late husband, society photographer Anthony Beauchamp. Friends said Miss Churchill had been emotionally upset since his suicide last August.

Burglary Suspect Felled by Gunfire

CINCINNATI (AP) — A hail of pistol and shotgun fire early today cut down 28-year-old Albert Ray Amburgey, sought for questioning in a Columbus burglary.

Amburgey was wounded critically by officers who sought to arrest him at his apartment.

Police said he ran for his car and officers, after ordering him to stop, opened fire when he put his hand in his pocket.

Officers said they found Amburgey had no gun. A small pistol was found in the apartment.

Steel Merger Trial Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Trial on a government motion to block merger of the Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. is set for April 7.

UAW Profit-Sharing Plan Seen Hurting U. S. Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts said today any big spread through industry of plans to share profits with workers would cut deeply into federal tax revenue and probably require sharp changes in taxing policy.

That was their private reaction to word from Detroit that the United Auto Workers had proposed that auto producers split a major share of profits before taxes with workers and customers.

They said profits thus distributed to workers would not be taxed, as they are now, at the 52 per cent corporate rate but at the much lower individual income rate — around 15 per cent or less in auto worker income brackets, allowing for deductions.

If the plan were adopted in the auto industry and spread widely among other industries, the result could lead to reducing federal revenues by billions of dollars. Corporate income taxes now yield about $20 billion a year.

In turn, the government would

Medic Linked To Swindle

Youngstown Doctor Facing Indictment

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — Investigators today continued to probe a suspected $200,000 swindle allegedly involving a city councilman, his campaign manager, an attorney and a doctor.

Only the physician, Dr. James Barnes, has been arrested. The other three men disappeared 11 days ago.

John J. Tobin Jr., 29, local city councilman and insurance adjuster, was named in an embezzlement warrant Monday. He headed the operation which faked insurance claims on automobile accidents, police say.

Paul Shade, Tobin's campaign manager and business associate, is charged with aiding and abetting the embezzlement.

Allen J. Swain, 26, an attorney who allegedly acted as legal advisor in the swindle, was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses as was Dr. Barnes.

Barnes supplied the necessary medical language for faked injury and hospital reports, according to Loren Van Brocklen, Assistant Mahoning County prosecutor. The doctor pleaded innocent following his arrest Saturday and was bound over to the Mahoning County grand jury. He was released on $3,000 bond.

Tobin, who worked for the American Associated Insurance Co., and Shade and Swain were named in warrants issued by Mahoning County Judge Edgar G. Diehm. Charges were based on only a part of the evidence uncovered in the suspected swindle.

Actor Gets Chance To 'Live' Sequel

DETROIT (AP) — Marc A. Brouseau, 34, an amateur actor, was sentenced to 10 days for driving without a license by Traffic Judge John D. Watts.

"Don't you remember me, judge?" Brouseau asked before Judge Watts passed sentence.

Brouseau explained he played the part of a defendant on Traffic Court, a television show Judge Watts starred in last year.

"Oh yes," the judge responded, "but this time the sentence is for real."

Mrs. Rhoades was born Oct. 3, 1908, in Jackson Twp. and has always resided at her place of birth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hoover, Route 3, Circleville, who will celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary on January 19. Hoover was at one time a Pickaway County Commissioner.

Ohio Convict's Trial Reumes In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A Long Island truck driver has testified that he thought convicted Ohio murderer Leroy Keith fired at him when a cab driver was shot to death in a holdup Dec. 19, 1956.

The truck driver, James T. Morris, 24, of Riverhead, N. Y., Monday became the fourth witness to testify in the Bronx County court trial of Keith.

Keith is accused of slaying cab driver David Suo, 49, of Jersey City.

The trial resumed today with police testimony.

Morris said Keith fired just after Suo rammed his cab into a police car while trying to get help. The truck driver said he thought Keith was firing at him for fleeing the scene.

Morris and two girls who also were in the cab with Keith originally were indicted with the defendant on first degree murder charges but are now being held in $50,000 each bail as material witnesses.

Morris was convicted of petty larceny in Manhattan in 1950.

Ohio authorities want Keith for a slaying committed since he was paroled last March after serving time on the 1934 Akron, Ohio, murder conviction.

Ike Asks $5 Billion Boost In National Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today a "two-fisted secretary of defense" can straighten out the nation's missile program without creating any new agencies.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, took issue with colleagues who have advocated reducing the power of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and placing the missile-satellite programs under a single head.

"All you need to get action now is a two-fisted secretary of defense who's not afraid to assume responsibility and has the President's support," Russell said.

He added he is "favorably impressed" so far by the speed with which Secretary of Defense McElroy has made decisions but isn't passing final judgment until more changes are made.

Georgia Solon Sounds Call For 2-Fisted Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today a "two-fisted secretary of defense" can straighten out the nation's missile program without creating any new agencies.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, took issue with colleagues who have advocated reducing the power of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and placing the missile-satellite programs under a single head.

"All you need to get action now is a two-fisted secretary of defense who's not afraid to assume responsibility and has the President's support," Russell said.

He added he is "favorably impressed" so far by the speed with which Secretary of Defense McElroy has made decisions but isn't passing final judgment until more changes are made.

A new political storm clouded congressional consideration of how to put the United States in the lead in the race for rocket weapons and manned satellites.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House GOP leader, stirred up the storm by blaming former President Truman for any lag behind Russia in missile development.

They spoke out in reply to Truman's statement in New York that he does not think Eisenhower is "a good policy maker nor is he a good budget maker."

In an unusual "public memorandum" addressed to Truman, the two Republicans said the nation had "rested on our oars during the last years of your administration while the Russians went to work."

"If today we are behind the Soviet Union in some respects in the race to perfect the weapons of the future—guided and ballistic missiles—a considerable part of the blame lies on the doorstep of your administration," they said.

In New York, Truman first commented that the Republicans "always have to have somebody to pass the buck to." Later he added, "The facts are not as stated."

Knowland and Martin said when World War II ended, this country was the mightiest military nation in the history of the world.

"Yet five years later due to your policy of drastically cutting down the armed services, we were not ready for the Korean War," they said.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, 1956 Democratic vice presidential nominee, fired back that "no amount of political statements or speeches will hide the facts."

"The facts are that the budget has been cut and cut during the Eisenhower administration, and research has been frustrated,"

Man Hurt, Thousands Tardy After Power Interruption

One man was injured and thousands of people were late for work as a result of a power failure at the Picway generating plant of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. early today.

Curtis Handley, Kingston, a DuPont employee, was admitted to Berger Hospital at 12:50 a. m. as a result of first and second degree burns to the face and neck. His injury was caused by a back flash in reigniting a gas fired steam boiler which was shut off temporarily as a result of the failure.

School students were as much as an hour late at Circleville High School and many businesses got a tardy start when electric clocks were off for over an hour.

A company spokesman said the trouble started when a circuit breaker failed to open at the Picway substation about 12 miles north of Circleville on U. S. Route 23, while a turbine was being taken out of service. The spokesman said this was a nightly operation.

The failure grounded a 138,000 volt power line knocking out the nearby Harrison substation. The power failure was responsible for electricity going out in parts of Pickaway, Franklin and Delaware counties. It was estimated that more than 1,000,000 people were affected.

Electricity was out from 12:30 to 1:20 a. m. and from 1:40 to 1:50 a. m.

The telephone system was incapacitated during this time and E. G. Parsons, Circleville division manager, commended Circleville Police for arousing Columbus and Southern Ohio officials immediately to correct the trouble.

Ohio Chemist Named as New Science Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has selected a 57-year-old chemist to help its campaign to match Soviet technology.

"My feet are already under the desk," Dr. Wallace R. Brode said minutes after his swearing in.

Dr. Brode, a chemistry professor at Ohio State University from 1928 to 1948, is the new science adviser in the State Department. The post has languished unfilled for two years, partly because of U. S. smugness over being the No. 1 scientific country in the world, partly because of a desire to keep the budget well trimmed.

Russia's Sputniks changed that.

Brode said his first task will be to organize a staff in the State Department to help him in his $16,000-a-year job. After that, he said half a dozen science attaches will be sent abroad, as soon as they can be located in universities and elsewhere in the country.

Brode is a native of Walla Walla, Wash. He calls Columbus, Ohio, his home, but he maintains a residence in the nation's capital, where he is associate director of the National Bureau of Standards in the Department of Commerce.

Brode did undergraduate work at Whitman College and graduate studies in chemistry at the University of Illinois. He got his doctorate from Illinois in 1925.

The wife and stepson of one of the victims are in critical condition in Lima hospitals.

The dead identified as Mr. and Mrs. Alvey Bacome and Gaylord Stover, about 30. The Bacomes and Stover's family occupied separate apartments on the second floor of the building.

In critical condition at St. Rita's hospital here is Stover's wife, Charlene. Jerry Jones, her 10-year-old son by a former marriage, was reported in critical condition at Memorial Hospital.

North Ohio Roads Slippery in Spots

Well, It Took Author Only a Half Century

TRENTON, Mo. (AP) — Homer Croy of New York, author of "Jesse James was my Neighbor" and many other books, returns what he borrows, all right, but sometimes he is a little slow.

GOP Leaders Tell President Of Opposition to Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower today the administration may bump into trouble on its proposals to hold back spending on new water resources projects.

Senate GOP leader Knowland of California reported the leaders' views after their regular weekly meeting with the President.

Knowland said he and his GOP colleagues had discussed the administration's 1958-59 proposals as to reclamation, flood control and other water resources projects.

In his budget message Monday, Eisenhower outlined plans to bar any new starts on such projects during the fiscal year starting July 1. The President said this should be done to help finance the

Congress Told $280 Billion Limit Needed

Request Follows Bid For Record Peacetime Budget by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today asked Congress to boost the $275 billion limit on the national debt to $280 billion.

The debt limit hike request further darkened the spectre of deficit spending and continued high taxes which has haunted Capitol Hill in the wake of Monday's presentation by President Eisenhower of his record peacetime $73.9 billion budget.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson asked the $5 billion boost in letters to Democratic and Republican leaders of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees. Those are the committees which would handle such legislation.

Anderson submitted a draft of suggested legislation that would make the increase effective on a temporary basis from the date of enactment through June 30, 1959.

The national debt subject to the ceiling limitation stood at $274,250,766,593.28 on Jan. 9, or just less than three-quarters of a billion dollars under the limit.

THERE HAD BEEN AN indication in Eisenhower's budget message that the administration would ask for an increase in the ceiling.

Eisenhower's message said that "the present limit of 275 billion dollars is too restrictive in view of rising defense expenditures and of the need for more flexibility to permit efficient and economical debt management."

Secretary Anderson said in his letter that an increase in the debt ceiling is particularly necessary because government outlays now are at such a high rate.

Congressional reaction was that the fiscal picture painted by the President in his annual budget message Monday was anything but bright. But Congress had not expected a rosy report in the light of current defense needs.

There was little doubt that Congress would approve all or most of the $9.8 billion outlay for the Defense Department. More argument was expected over non-defense spending proposals in an effort to balance the budget.

Self-Labeled Hero Accused In Burglary

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — A man who says he is a war hero is charged with burglary, assault with a deadly weapon and attempted robbery after a bold try to take the $40,000 receipts from the Crosby Golf Tournament.

He went into municipal court today for a preliminary hearing but the Monterey County sheriff's office said positive identification would have to wait two days for a fingerprint check.

The man says he is Lt. Col. Melvin Russell Blair, 42, who retired from the Army with a distinguished record.

Blair, who had lived at Alexandria, Va., was wounded in World War II and twice in Korea. Pentagon records show he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross twice, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star three times, the Air Medal and three Purple Hearts.

The man who attempted "the holdup used a gun to force Chester Gillette, treasurer of the Del Monte Properties Co., and his auditor, Frank Morton, to take him to Del Monte Lodge, where the tournament receipts were being guarded by Deputy Sheriff Tom Martin.

The man was subdued after a scuffle in which Martin grabbed the bandit's pistol hand. The gun went off, giving Martin some powder burns.

Postage Boost Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaking of President Eisenhower's request for a 5-cent out-of-town postage rate, Chairman Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Postoffice Committee today called it "too much."

The truck driver, James T. Morris, 24, of Riverhead, N. Y., Monday became the fourth witness to testify in the Bronx County court trial of Keith.

Keith is accused of slaying cab driver David Suro, 49, of Jersey City.

The trial resumed today with police testimony. Morris said Keith fired just after Suro rammed his cab into a police car while trying to get help. The truck driver said he thought Keith was firing at him for fleeing the scene.

Morris and two girls who also were in the cab with Keith originally were indicted with the defendant on first degree murder charges but are now being held in $50,000 each bail as material witnesses.

Morris was convicted of petty larceny in Manhattan in 1950.

Ohio authorities want Keith for a slaying committed since he was paroled last March after serving time on the 1934 Akron, Ohio, murder conviction.

Georgia Solon Sounds Call For 2-Fisted Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today a "two-fisted secretary of defense" can straighten out the nation's missile program without creating any new agencies.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, took issue with colleagues who have advocated reducing the power of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and placing the missile-satellite programs under a single head.

"All you need to get action now is a two-fisted secretary of defense who's not afraid to assume responsibility and has the President's support," Russell said.

He added he is "favorably impressed" so far by the speed with which Secretary of Defense McElroy has made decisions but isn't passing final judgment until more changes are made.

A new political storm clouded congressional consideration of how to put the United States in the lead in the race for rocket weapons and manned satellites.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, and Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House GOP leader, stirred up the storm by blaming former President Truman for any lag behind Russia in missile development.

They spoke out in reply to Truman's statement in New York that he does not think Eisenhower is a good policy maker nor is he a good budget maker.

In an unusual "public memorandum" addressed to Truman, the two Republicans said the nation had "rested on our oars during the last years of your administration while the Russians went to work."

"If today we are behind the Soviet Union in some respects in the race to perfect the weapons of the future—guided and ballistic missiles—a considerable part of the blame lies on the doorstep of your administration," they said.

In New York, Truman first commented that the Republicans "always have to have somebody to pass the buck to." Later he added, "The facts are not as stated."

Knowland and Martin said when World War II ended, this country was the mightiest military nation in the history of the world.

"Yet five years later due to your policy of drastically cutting down the armed services, we were not ready for the Korean War," they said.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, 1956 Democratic vice presidential nominee, fired back that "no amount of political statements or speeches will hide the facts."

"The facts are that the budget has been cut and cut during the Eisenhower administration, and research has been frustrated,"

Man Hurt, Thousands Tardy After Power Interruption

One man was injured and thousands of people were late for work as a result of a power failure at the Pickway generating plant of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. early today.

Curtis Handley, Kingston, a DuPont employee, was admitted to Berger Hospital at 12:50 a. m. as a result of first and second degree burns to the face and neck. His injury was caused by a back flash in reigniting a gas fired steam boiler which was shut off temporarily as a result of the failure.

School students were as much as an hour late at Circleville High School and many businesses got a tardy start when electric clocks were off for over an hour.

A company spokesman said the trouble started when a circuit breaker failed to open at the Pickway substation about 12 miles north of Circleville on U. S. Route 23, while a turbine was being taken out of service. The spokesman said this was a nightly operation.

The failure grounded a 138,000 volt power line knocking out the nearby Harrison substation. The power failure was responsible for electricity going out in parts of Pickaway, Franklin and Delaware counties. It was estimated that more than 1,000,000 people were affected.

Electricity was out from 12:30 to 1:20 a. m. and from 1:40 to 1:50 a. m.

The telephone system was incapacitated during this time and E. G. Parsons, Circleville division manager, commended Circleville Police for arousing Columbus and Southern Ohio officials immediately to correct the trouble.

Ohio Chemist Named as New Science Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has selected a 57-year-old chemist to help its campaign to match Soviet technology.

"My feet are already under the desk," Dr. Wallace R. Brode said minutes after his swearing in.

Dr. Brode, a chemistry professor at Ohio State University from 1928 to 1948, is the new science adviser in the State Department. The post has languished unfilled for two years, partly because of U. S. smugness over being the No. 1 scientific country in the world, partly because of a desire to keep the budget well trimmed.

Russia's Sputniks changed that. Brode said his first task will be to organize a staff in the State Department to help him in his $16,000-a-year job. After that, he said half a dozen science attaches will be sent abroad, as soon as they can be located in universities and elsewhere in the country.

Brode is a native of Walla Walla, Wash. He calls Columbus, Ohio, his home, but he maintains a residence in the nation's capital, where he is associate director of the National Bureau of Standards in the Department of Commerce.

Brode did undergraduate work at Whitman College and graduate studies in chemistry at the University of Illinois. He got his doctorate from Illinois in 1925.

GOP Leaders Tell President Of Opposition to Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower today the administration may bump into trouble on its proposals to hold back spending on new water resources projects.

Senate GOP leader Knowland of California reported the leaders' views after their regular weekly meeting with the President.

Knowland said he and his GOP colleagues had discussed the administration's 1958-59 proposals as to reclamation, flood control and other water resources projects.

In his budget message Monday, Eisenhower outlined plans to bar any new starts on such projects during the fiscal year starting July 1. The President said this should be done to help finance the projects already under way.

proposed defense spending program without a tax increase.

The legislators also discussed with the President the special message on defense reorganization which Eisenhower plans to send to Congress soon.

KNOWLAND said the members had told the President there is much opposition in Congress to any thought of concentrating authority and direction in the hands of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

As for the water resources projects, Knowland said he wanted to emphasize that despite the proposed ban on new starts, more money will be spent on water projects in the next fiscal year than was spent on them during each year of the last decade or so. In his budget message the President called for continuation of work on 800 projects already under way.

Congress Told $280 Billion Limit Needed

Request Follows Bid For Record Peacetime Budget by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today asked Congress to boost the $275 billion limit on the national debt to $280 billion.

The debt limit hike request further darkened the spectre of deficit spending and continued high taxes which has haunted Capitol Hill in the wake of Monday's presentation by President Eisenhower of his record peacetime $73.9 billion budget.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson asked the $5 billion boost in letters to Democratic and Republican leaders of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees. Those are the committees which would handle such legislation.

Anderson submitted a draft of suggested legislation that would make the increase effective on a temporary basis from the date of enactment through June 30, 1959.

The national debt subject to the ceiling limitation stood at $274,250,765,593.28 on Jan. 9, or just less than three-quarters of a billion dollars under the limit.

THERE HAD BEEN an indication in Eisenhower's budget message that the administration would ask for an increase in the ceiling. Eisenhower's message said that "the present limit of 275 billion dollars is too restrictive in view of rising defense expenditures and of the need for more flexibility to permit efficient and economical debt management."

Secretary Anderson said in his letter that an increase in the debt ceiling is particularly necessary because government outlays now are at such a high rate.

Congressional reaction was that the fiscal picture painted by the President in his annual budget message Monday was anything but bright. But Congress had not expected a rosy report in the light of current defense needs.

There was little doubt that Congress would approve all or most of the $39.8 billion outlay for the Defense Department. More argument was expected over non-defense spending proposals in an effort to balance the budget.

Self-Labeled Hero Accused In Burglary

MONTREY, Calif. (AP)—A man who says he is a war hero is charged with burglary, assault with a deadly weapon and attempted robbery after a bold try to take the $40,000 receipts from the Crosby Golf Tournament.

He went into municipal court today for a preliminary hearing but the Monterey County sheriff's office said positive identification would have to wait two days for a fingerprint check.

The man says he is Lt. Col. Melvin Russell Blair, 42, who retired from the Army with a distinguished record.

Blair, who had lived at Alexandria, Va., was wounded in World War II and twice in Korea. Pentagon records show he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross twice, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star three times, the Air Medal and three Purple Hearts.

The man who attempted the holdup used a gun to force Chester Gillette, treasurer of the Del Monte Properties Co., and his auditor, Frank Morton, to take him to Del Monte Lodge, where the tournament receipts were being guarded by Deputy Sheriff Tom Martin.

The man was subdued after a scuffle in which Martin grabbed the bandit's pistol hand. The gun went off, giving Martin some powder burns.

State Board of Education Chief Named, Actions Taken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.S.)—The State Board of Education, beginning its third year, Monday unanimously elected Elliott E. Meyers, an Iron- ton attorney, president. Loren E. Souers Jr. of Canton was named vice-president, 17-4, after four ballots.

Meyers, elected for a two-year term, succeeds Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, who is not eligible to succeed himself.

Francis W. Spicer of Akron was the runnerup for the vice presidency. Souers, also an attorney, succeeds Meyers.

Gov. C. William O'Neill spoke early in the meeting and called it a "significant occasion."

"What we need most is improvement of quality of our education in all fields," he said. "The eyes of the people of Ohio are focused on you now more than they have been in recent history."

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court administered the oath of office to five board members re-elected last November and to two elected to fill vacancies.

In action in the evening session, the board directed E. E.

Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, to make a survey of educational needs in Fayette County. The survey will be financed by private funds raised by Fayette County residents and held in a Washington Court House bank.

The board also amended its rules, allowing the monthly meeting (on the second Monday of the month) to begin at 2 p. m. instead of 7 p. m.

The board approved transfer of two tracts of land from the Fearing local school district in Washington County to the Marietta city school district. Fifteen children of school age live in the tracts—Gibson Barnes and Kanef-Matt-hes. During a conference Dec. 27, the Fearing local board of education and the Washington County board of education withdrew their original objections to the transfer.

The board decided advantages to be gained outweighed disadvantages and approved transfer of the major portion of West Twp. school district in Columbiana County to the Stark County school district, asked by 376 residents of the township district. Objectors said the transfer does not include the entire district and leaves about 50 elementary pupils without a school building. It also takes 14 classroom units from the Columbiana County school system.

The board went along with the request of 36 residents to transfer the Alert area of the Morgan Twp. school district from the Butler County school district to the Hamilton County school district. The Morgan Twp. board opposed the transfer request, saying most of the people in the district would suffer a tax loss. Some 22 pupils are involved, 8 in high school and 14 in elementary school. The area consists of about 2,600 acres.

The board tabled a request to transfer a portion of the Fairfield-New Waterford school district of Columbiana County to the Columbiana exempted village school district. The area consists of Section 5 and Section 6 of Fairfield Twp.

Other transfers disapproved by the board included: Bloom Carroll local of Fairfield County school district to the Franklin County school district.

Panicky Gunman Surrenders In Hunt for Slayer of Cop

CHICAGO (U.S.)—A panicky gunman, bunted by nearly every cop in the city for the slaying of a patrolman, surrendered Monday night, saying he feared he "was going to be shot on sight."

When newsmen asked about his surrender, he snarled: "Do you know how hot them streets are?"

pital where he sought medical attention for a hand injury he said he suffered when he broke a pitcher. Police said he later admitted the wound was inflicted in the Quirk slaying.

FROM ADMISSIONS BY Starcevic and LaPapa, police constructed this account:

The pair forced their way into Quirk's parked car on the near North Side and got into the back seat. They forced the off-duty patrolman and his date, Caroline Smith, 18, a student of modeling, to give up money and jewels.

Then LaPapa ordered Quirk to drive around the neighborhood and pull into an alley. In an apparently desperate gamble to foil the gunmen, Quirk rammed his car into a parked car, whipped out a pistol and started shooting.

The gunmen returned fire and Quirk slumped down, mortally wounded.

Miss Smith identified LaPapa and Starcevic at police headquarters. She said she recognized one by his voice, the other by sight.

The two were linked by police with a gang of stickup men who preyed on taverns in the near North Side.

State Board of Education Chief Named, Actions Taken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education, beginning its third year, Monday unanimously elected Elliott E. Meyers, an Iron-ton attorney, president. Loren E. Souers Jr. of Canton was named vice-president, 17-4, after four ballots.

Meyers, elected for a two-year term, succeeds Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, who is not eligible to succeed himself.

Francis W. Spicer of Akron was the runnerup for the vice presidency. Souers, also an attorney, succeeds Meyers.

Gov. C. William O'Neill spoke early in the meeting and called it a "significant occasion."

"What we need most is improvement of quality of our education in all fields," he said. "The eyes have been focused on you now more than they have been in recent history."

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court administered the oath of office to five board members re-elected last November and to two elected to fill vacancies.

In action in the evening session, the board directed E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, to make a survey of educational needs in Fayette County. The survey will be financed by private funds raised by Fayette County residents and held in a Washington Court House bank.

The board also amended its rules, allowing the monthly meeting (on the second Monday of the month) to begin at 2 p.m. instead of 7 p.m.

The board approved transfer of two tracts of land from the Fearing local school district in Washington County to the Marietta city school district. Fifteen children of school age live in the tracts—Gibson Barnes and Kanef-Matt-hes. During a conference Dec. 27, the Fearing local board of education and the Washington County board of education withdrew their original objections to the transfer.

The board decided advantages to be gained outweighed disadvantages and approved transfer of the major portion of West Twp. school district in Columbiana County to the Stark County school district, asked by 576 residents of the township district. Objectors said the transfer does not include the entire district and leaves about 50 elementary pupils without a school building. It also takes 14 classroom units from the Columbiana County school system.

The board went along with the request of 36 residents to transfer the Alert area of the Morgan Twp. school district from the Butler County school district to the Hamilton County school district. The Morgan Twp. board opposed the transfer request, saying most of the people in the district oppose the request and the district would suffer a tax loss. Some 22 pupils are involved, 8 in high school and 14 in elementary school. The area consists of about 2,600 acres.

The board tabled a request to transfer a portion of the Fairfield-New Waterford school district of Columbiana County to the Columbiana County village school district. The area consists of Section 5 and Section 6 of Fairfield Twp.

Other transfers disapproved by the board included: Bloom Carroll local of Fairfield County school district to the Franklin County school district.

Congress Told

fort to widen the narrow gap between expected spending and expected revenue during the coming fiscal year.

Even as it put the finishing touches on an emergency $1.2 billion defense fund, a House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee called hearings Jan. 27 on the military budget for the year starting July 1.

George Starcevic, 23, his hair combed, carefully in to the FBI and then was handed to Chicago police.

When newsmen asked about his surrender, he snarled: "Do you know how hot them streets are?"

All day long, the streets were alive with patrols searching for Starcevic, implicated by a companion in the fatal shooting of Patrolman John Quirk, 23.

Starcevic's companion, Nick La-Papa Jr., 23, was seized at a hospital where he sought medical attention for a hand injury he said he suffered when he broke a pitcher. Police said he later admitted the wound was inflicted in the Quirk slaying.

FROM ADMISSIONS by Starcevic and LaPapa, police constructed this account: The pair forced their way into Quirk's parked car on the near North Side and got into the back seat. They forced the off-duty patrolman and his date, Caroline Smith, 18, a student of modeling, to give up money and jewels.

Then LaPapa ordered Quirk to drive around the neighborhood and pull into an alley. In an apparently desperate gamble to foil the gunmen, Quirk rammed his car into a parked car, whipped out a pistol and started shooting. The gunmen returned fire and Quirk slumped down, mortally wounded.

Miss Smith identified LaPapa and Starcevic at police headquarters. She said she recognized one by his voice, the other by sight.

The two were linked by police with a gang of stickup men who preyed on taverns in the near North Side.

Judge Cline Cites Problem Of Increased Youth Cases

By J. I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Juvenile problems are on the increase in Pickaway County. Today Juvenile Judge Guy Cline had some sharp comment on the situation.

In the 1957 annual report of the Pickaway County Juvenile Court, 178 cases were recorded. Ninety-seven cases were of juvenile delinquency and the rest were cases involving juveniles in other ways. This is the highest number of cases in the history of the local court.

In commenting on this alarming increase in juvenile delinquency cases (there were 162 in 1956, which was the previous high), Juvenile Judge Cline said: "Of the many problems facing the juvenile court, one of the greatest is the continual effort of the court and society in general to punish the children for the same acts that their parents or other adults perform with immunity. Generally, delinquency in Pickaway County is no different than any other place. It is increasing. Judge Cline says the cause is that there are more people whose moral fibre is becoming progressively weaker as their lives and interests become more and more involved in an ever increasingly complex society where time spent with our children, our families and church groups, gets less and less. As membership in the church increases, attendance decreases. Membership in and obligations to social groups multiply year by year until we have more obligations than hours in the day."

A SHORT TIME ago, Judge Cline reported, a young girl was brought before the juvenile court on a sex charge. She was placed on probation under a sentence to the Girls Industrial School at Delaware. Subsequently the adult who perpetrated the act was released by the January, 1958, Grand Jury without charge. He had been charged with statutory rape with the consent of the minor.

The problem immediately arose as to how to regulate the conduct of the adult. It did not seem just to punish the child without restraint of the adult and therefore the original sentence of the girl was vacated. The only blot on the record still remains on that of the girl.

Cline further commented that it would appear that the prosecutor cannot hope for action in sex cases of statutory rape involving young girls. Cline says, "I do not believe that the court can regulate moral conduct using a standard of its own or one written in a law book. The standard of moral conduct will remain the product of our combined wills and desires, and no higher."

There have been many cases of breaking and entering although the value of articles taken has been small. Boys have not indicated a realization of the seriousness of this type of offense, Judge Cline said. Two boys were sent to the Boys Industrial School this week for this offense and two others have been placed on probation under a sentence to the BIS.

Truancy has been another serious problem since it generally results in the child quitting school at an early age and later being unable to obtain or retain employment because of his lack of an education. Therefore, the person will resort to theft and breaking and entering in order to exist.

The child who quits school early and later on realizes his mistake is then too old to go back to school. The sad part about it according to Judge Cline, is the fact that the court cannot order an uneducated child of 16 or 17 to get a job nor can it expect employers to employ them.

It would seem a better plan to permit and require them to attend school even to the age of 18 at least for the purpose of learning a trade. It shouldn't, but so often is, Judge Cline declared, necessary to send a boy to the BIS, to learn to be a bricklayer, a plumber or tinner. It is the opinion of Judge Cline that truancy should be sternly considered, but with compassion.

ANOTHER problem is the mentally retarded.

These children are often treated as necessary evils around the home and lack the proper limited training by which they could be made useful. They soon are unable to keep up in school and are avoided by other children.

They soon find other children of the same limitations for companions. Ridiculous types of crime result for lack of teaching as to how to devote their time to something more useful.

The state school accepts only three of these per year from Pickaway County and then only if they are not crippled and have an IQ below 62. Those who cannot qualify or for whom there is no quota oftentimes engage in delinquent conduct because no one wants to assist them in becoming better citizens.

When a juvenile is taken into custody in the county and it is found advisable or necessary to retain custody of him or her, the only place available is the county jail. The law prohibits confining a juvenile in a jail where adults are confined and many times the jail is filled to capacity.

As a result the young child is required to remain in the "hole" at the city prison or some other unsatisfactory place and circumstance.

A detention home for juveniles should definitely be provided, Judge Cline said. It could be used to provide a home and a training center for other cases where a sentence to the BIS is not required.

Judge Cline said, "If we are to gain the confidence, love and respect of those we control, in this case children, we must learn and be willing to live by the same rules that they live by. We must earn to love them as they love us."

Another great problem is our refusal to attack the problem at its source, Cline says. "As parents we must teach the children to respect one another and his or her property, whether it be a rag doll or a valuable watch."

"The warnings are all the same; if we as adults wish to live our lives wrecklessly and we are unwilling to care and protect our children to any extent, then we cannot complain of the dire results that are sure to happen and are happening," he concluded.

There's No Corner on Brains

Proof of the new governmental interest in science is the news that the State Department may revive its science attaché program in several foreign capitals.

As many as a dozen science diplomats would be sent to posts around the world to help keep closer check on foreign scientific advances and to promote the flow of information.

Actually this would be breathing life into a program started some years ago but which was permitted to languish in 1955. According to a Washington report, the President will ask for $200,000 to revivify this plan.

At a time when American science has been placed temporarily in the pale by the Russian achievement of hoisting two sputniks into outer space, it will be important to have this tangible evidence that Washington is putting emphasis upon this vital phase of national life.

Sputnik I taught America that no nation has a corner on brains. Having trained scientists on the spot in various foreign countries may enable the U. S. to garner an important piece of information which can be fitted in with what American scientists are developing to provide a needed answer in some crucial field.

In 1975: A 35-Hour Work Week

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a communist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That life will be better if we can just hold out until 1975; a poll of 50 top U. S. business leaders predicted that by then the work week will be down to 35 hours and average family income will be $7,500, compared to $5,500 now.

That 39 per cent of people over 45 complain of one form or other of back trouble.

That on Broadway they tell of the bopster at his first rodeo who, bug-eyed, watched a cowboy wrestling a steer. "Man," he exclaimed, "what a crazy way to order a steak!"

That in 1800 it took nine men on a farm to produce the food for themselves and one other person; today one farmer raises enough for himself and 17 others.

That a psychiatrist says there are only a million normal people in the United States. Wonder who the other 999,999 are?

That there are 182,573 street lamps in New York City, proving that this is one town where you can lean on something besides relatives.

That Frank Pipal, an Omaha, Neb., consulting forester, found a poison ivy vine more than 50 feet tall and with a trunk more than five inches thick. It is not for sale.

That mosquitoes from behind the Iron Curtain are fighting to save American timber. Some 1,600 specimens of Aphidoletes Thomsni were imported from Czechoslovakia to attack woolly aphids that infest silver fir trees in Oregon and Washington.

That American hunters fire almost three times as many shotgun shells at the lowly cottontail rabbit as they do at duck and geese. And (shades of Davy Crockett) it takes 15 shots for the average nimrod to bag one duck.

That Lisa Kirk says a fellow in Hollywood has the world's softest job; he's Yul Brynner's hairdresser.

That the pony population of the Shetland Islands is dwindling because of the increased demand for them in America.

That it was Spinoza who observed, "Those who are believed to be most abject and humble are usually most ambitious and envious."

Uniform for Everyone

By George Sokolsky

In Joe's battle with the cops over his arrest for being off his leash, we have come upon an amazing discovery. The fellow who issued the wrong summons for Joe was no cop. He could not arrest a murderer or a mugger or such. He wore a policeman's uniform; he boasted a policeman's badge; his head was covered by a policeman's cap, but, so help me, he belonged to the Department of Sanitation.

Why the street cleaning cops do not wear green or white or purple uniforms, I have not been told. They wear blue like a regular policeman. I say it is camouflage; it is a trick.

Here in this big city, New York, where 8,000,000 or more people live in peace and democracy, as "Butch" La Guardia used to say, there are all sorts of people who wear police uniforms. First of all are the police of the Police Department who are, as things go in a big city, fairly popular with most folks, unless one double-parks on the exact day and the precise hour when they take it into their heads to give out tickets.

Then there are the Sanitation Department police who walk about chasing dogs, annoying superintendents of large buildings, going after chewing gum addicts who drop wrappers on the sidewalks, etc. They are the enemies of the litter-bugs.

It would be smarter if the regular police got the money for additional men, for while a litter-bug is bad, a mugger is worse; and while it makes a city look sloppy if dogs are not curbed, it also makes a city look sloppy if cars are so parked that nothing can be done about sweeping the streets. So let us take first things first, namely, spend more money on cops to put down crime and juvenile delinquency.

Then there are the transit police who might wear a grey uniform, instead of the true blue. The transit police look after subways and such places. There are not enough of them and in the rush and hustle of New York's transportation, which is normally a bughouse operation, they are flattened out by the mob.

The transit police recently got a bad name by putting a microphone in the offices of a labor union in anticipation of a strike. Nobody seems to have liked that idea at all.

"Bugging," as it is called, is a criminal process, usually operated by private detectives to get the goods on an erring husband or wife. Those who err constantly try to avoid using their own telephones, lest they be bugged, which is easy to do. They make their rendezvous over pay-station telephones, changing from one to another. Please, do not ask me how I know.

Then there are the Port of New York Authority police who act in the airports, bus terminals and such places. They also wear the true blue uniform but they are really watchmen in circumscribed areas. They should wear pink.

The citizen becomes confused. There are too many public agencies and too many men in uniform and too many police who are not police. I do not know how it is in other big cities, but here in New York the citizen asks why a great big cop worries a little dog only to discover that the dog-stalker is not a policeman at all; that he is just a Sanitation Department guy.

So from now on, every time I see one of those monstrous garbage wagons violate the law about blocking the streets or dropping part of the garbage cans in the street, or committing any other kind of a nuisance, I shall call a cop.

What can a citizen do? Write to the mayor? The citizen gets nowhere. The mayor is probably scared that his wagon-drivers and garbage-wrestlers will go on strike. Go, fight City Hall! Meanwhile, Joe must stand trial for being off his leash. Does Joe care? Is Joe grateful that he is being represented by adequate counsel who will see to it that his constitutional rights are protected? Not Joe! He is a politician. He did not even bark at the Sanitation Department dog-stalker, but when he saw a real cop in true blue uniform, he gave him what for.

And with dogs, so it is with men, or is it vice versa?

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an A-B-C on the thousands of words President Eisenhower and Russian Premier Bulganin wrote each other in the past month. Their subject: How to have a summit conference to talk peace and disarmament.

A conference still looks far off because they don't agree on how to have it.

Bulganin wants a meeting at the top, period. Eisenhower is cool towards it unless there is adequate preparation. For example: a meeting of foreign ministers.

But this is a basic stumbling block to any agreement on disarmament: This country insists there must first be agreement on a foolproof inspection system to prevent cheating. The Russians haven't agreed.

Bulganin wrote Eisenhower Dec. 10 and again Jan. 9. The second letter covered pretty much the same ground as the first, with a few additions. Eisenhower's letter, delivered to Moscow Jan. 12, was a reply to Bulganin's first letter.

Bulganin insisted Dec. 10: The United States, Britain and Russia should refrain from using nuclear weapons; the United States and its European NATO allies should sign a nonaggression pact with Russia and its satellites in the Warsaw alliance; the United States and Russia should pledge themselves not to interfere in the Middle East and to renounce the use of force to settle Middle East problems; and the United States and Russia should sign a treaty of friendship and cooperation.

Eisenhower replied: All those points were already implicitly agreed to in the charter of the United Nations in which the United States, Russia and all the others are members. If all sides lived up to the charter, there'd be no problem.

Bulganin proposed: The United States, Britain and Russia suspend nuclear tests for two or three years; a substantial cut in armed forces and armaments; a complete ban on nuclear weapons; discontinuance of their manufacture; destruction of nuclear stockpiles.

Eisenhower said he'd go along on all these — and even suggested an indefinite suspension of nuclear tests — if it was a tremendous if. He'd go along, Eisenhower said, if there was a foolproof inspection system.

These are Bulganin proposals which Eisenhower didn't answer:

1. Withdrawal of foreign armed forces from the territories of all countries.
2. Scrap the present NATO and Warsaw alliances and substitute a collective security agreement.
3. A curb on the "present propaganda" in press and radio.

Bulganin also suggested:

1. No nuclear weapons be placed in East or West Germany or in Poland or Czechoslovakia.

Eisenhower replied that keeping such a small area de-nuclearized wouldn't mean much since Bulganin himself had pointed out that no country anywhere, large or small, is any longer safe from destruction by missiles.

2. Restoration of normal trade between this country and Russia. Eisenhower said this was all right with him so long as the trade did not include materials that could be used for war-making.

Then Eisenhower proposed steps Bulganin didn't mention in his Dec. 10 letter:

Strengthening the U.N. by eliminating the American and Russian veto against the Security Council's efforts to settle disputes peacefully (he pointed out Russia has used the veto 82 times in the U.N.); an agreement to use outer space only for peaceful purposes; measures to prevent surprise attacks.

Eczema -- a Winter Hazard

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Eczema is a constant winter hazard for many children. While it may develop at any time of the year, of course, the sudden changes of temperature, harsh winds, and the tight, heavy clothing worn in cold weather make it more prevalent now.

There are many other causes of eczema among infants and children, too, such as excessive bathing, rubbing, local infections, lack of cleanliness, particularly in the diaper region, and even some medicated baby oils.

Teething sometimes aggravates an attack, too.

The first thing to do, even before your physician attempts to determine the cause of the eczema, is to prevent the youngster from scratching the affected areas. Scratching in an eczema attack can do untold harm.

You can prevent the smaller child from reaching his face by placing pasteboard splints over his elbows.

Since rubbing the face against a pillow can be nearly as bad as scratching, a linen cap may be placed over the head and side of the face.

As a rule the doctor will caution against using soap and water to bathe affected areas. Instead, try patting on olive oil with a piece of absorbent cotton.

If the eczema is located in the diaper region, be sure to change soiled diapers promptly. Use mineral oil to clean the area and then powder it with cornstarch.

Many cases of eczema can be traced to foods. The most common food offenders are milk, eggs and wheat. Your doctor or pediatrician probably will recommend a diet which excludes one or all of these foods.

It is probably easiest to exclude wheat first since there are so many substitutes for it. You can substitute cornflakes, cornmeal, crackers, rice (either puffed or boiled) or soybean flour.

When milk is banned, soybean emulsion might be used.

Question and Answer

Answer: This may be due to an infection or to a blood clot in one of the veins of your leg. This latter condition is known as thrombophlebitis.

U. S. Foreign Aid Pays Off In Most Instances, Report

Editor's Note: The Associated Press foreign news analyst believes that, despite isolated instances of friction, U. S. technicians dispensing knowhow and good will are winning the crucial cold war. Following is the first in a series of four articles on the subject.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

In Arab Lebanon, a housewife says to the grocer: "Give me a half dozen Point Four eggs."

In Iran, a Persian tribe, overwhelmed with gratitude, took a solemn oath to "protect Point Four and its people at all times." Once when the U. S. aid program was threatened, the tribe was ready to march on Tehran.

In Tunisia, a businessman pleads with the Americans to triple technical assistance.

In Paraguay, a farmer says he is proud that such a great power as the United States sends people to help his little country.

In the developing economic-political global war with communism, technical assistance may look like only a minor skirmish. But it is one field in which Americans have been successful, one field in which Americans have built up more gratitude than resentment. It has left a deep and lasting mark in many a struggling country.

Most people in the world's underdeveloped countries still refer to the U. S. program by its original name: Point Four. Now it's under the International Cooperation Administration.

The whole vast Middle East, a major theater in the political-economic contest between democracy and communism, is dotted with such so-called trivial projects. Local people don't think the projects are trivial.

Today, technical assistance is a weapon whose potency has been newly recognized by the Russians. Iron Curtain technicians wait eagerly for a chance to supplant Americans in the underdeveloped world.

Quietly, without publicity fanfare, a little army of American technicians chalked up an impressive record as ambassadors of good will. It numbered only 2,961 in 1957. Before Congress this session will be a proposal to increase the number to 3,302, and to increase the annual budget by 20 million dollars to 150 million for operations in 57 countries in the next 18 months.

An Associated Press survey indicates however, that of all Americans abroad, the technical experts are the least resented. Indeed, in many places, they are highly popular.

The cry abroad is for more and better Americans.

Tomorrow—Asia wants Americans.

Toledo Sees Dip In Grain Shipping

TOLEDO (AP)—Movement of grain in and out of the Toledo market area declined sharply last year, the Toledo Board of Trade says.

A. E. Schultz, secretary of the board, blamed the drop on lower farm production and poor crop weather.

The 1957 receipts of grain totaled 79,786,873 bushels, compared with the all-time high of 104,637,957 bushels in 1956 and 98,885,368 bushels in 1955. Last year's receipts included 24,962,160 bushels of wheat, 38,756,632 bushels of corn, 4,858,413 bushels of oats, 54,797 bushels of rye, 107,764 bushels of barley and 11,047,107 bushels of soybeans.

There's No Corner on Brains

Proof of the new governmental interest in science is the news that the State Department may revive its science attaché program in several foreign capitals.

As many as a dozen science diplomats would be sent to posts around the world to help keep closer check on foreign scientific advances and to promote the flow of information.

Actually this would be breathing life into a program started some years ago but which was permitted to languish in 1955. According to a Washington report, the President will ask for $200,000 to revivify this plan.

At a time when American science has been placed temporarily in the pale by the Russian achievement of hoisting two sputniks into outer space, it will be important to have this tangible evidence that Washington is putting emphasis upon this vital phase of national life.

Sputnik I taught America that no nation has a corner on brains. Having trained scientists on the spot in various foreign countries may enable the U. S. to garner an important piece of information which can be fitted in with what American scientists are developing to provide a needed answer in some crucial field.

In 1975: A 35-Hour Work Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That life will be better if we can just hold out until 1975; a poll of 50 top U. S. business leaders predicted that by then the work week will be down to 35 hours and average family income will be $7,500, compared to $5,500 now.

That 39 per cent of people over 45 complain of one form or other of back trouble.

That on Broadway they tell of the poster at his first rodeo who, bug-eyed, watched a cowboy wrestling a steer. "Man," he exclaimed, "what a crazy way to order a steak!"

That in 1800 it took nine men on a farm to produce the food for themselves and one other person; today one farmer raises enough for himself and 17 others.

That a psychiatrist says there are only a million normal people in the United States. Wonder who the other 999,999 are?

That there are 182,573 street lamps in New York City, proving that this is one town where you can lean on something besides relatives.

That Frank Pipal, an Omaha, Neb., consulting forester, found a poison ivy vine more than 50 feet tall and with a trunk more than five inches thick. It is not for sale.

That mosquitoes from behind the Iron Curtain are fighting to save American timber. Some 1,600 specimens of Aphidoletes Thomsni were imported from

Uniform for Everyone

In Joe's battle with the cops over his arrest for being off his leash, we have come upon an amazing discovery. The fellow who issued the wrong summons for Joe was no cop. He could not arrest a murderer or a mugger or such. He wore a policeman's uniform; he boasted a policeman's badge; his head was covered by a policeman's cap, but, so help me, he belonged to the Department of Sanitation.

Why the street cleaning cops do not wear green or white or purple uniforms, I have not been told. They wear blue like a regular policeman. I say it is camouflage; it is a trick.

Here in this big city, New York, where 8,000,000 or more people live in peace and democracy, as "Butch" La Guardia used to say, there are all sorts of people who wear police uniforms. First of all are the police of the Police Department who are, as things go in a big city, fairly popular with most folks, unless one double-parks on the exact day and the precise hour when they take it into their heads to give out tickets.

Then there are the Sanitation Department police who walk about chasing dogs, annoying superintendents of large buildings, going after chewing gum addicts who drop wrappers on the sidewalks, etc. They are the enemies of the litter-bugs.

It would be smarter if the regular police got the money for additional men, for while a litter-bug is bad, a mugger is worse; and while it makes a city look sloppy if dogs are not curbed, it also makes a city look sloppy if cars are so parked that nothing can be done about sweeping the streets. So let us take first things first, namely, spend more money on cops to put down crime and juvenile delinquency.

Then there are the transit police who might wear a grey uniform, instead of the true blue. The transit police look after subways and such places. There are not enough of them and in the rush and hustle of New York's transportation, which is normally a bughouse operation, they are flattened out by the mob.

The transit police recently got a bad name by putting a microphone in the offices of a labor union in anticipation of a strike. Nobody seems to have liked that idea at all.

"Bugging," as it is called, is a criminal process, usually operated by private detectives to get the goods on an erring husband or wife. Those who err constantly try to avoid using their own telephones, lest they be bugged, which is easy to do. They make their rendezvous over pay-station telephones, changing from one to another. Please, do not ask me how I know.

Then there are the Port of New York Authority police who act in the airports, bus terminals and such places. They also wear the true blue uniform but they are really watchmen in circumscribed areas. They should wear pink.

The citizen becomes confused. There are too many public agencies and too many men in uniform and too many police who are not police. I do not know how it is in other big cities, but here in New York the citizen asks why a great big cop worries a little dog only to discover that the dog-stalker is not a policeman at all; that he is just a Sanitation Department guy.

So from now on, every time I see one of those monstrous garbage wagons violate the law about blocking the streets or dropping part of the garbage cans in the street, or committing any other kind of a nuisance, I shall call a cop.

What can a citizen do? Write to the mayor? The citizen gets nowhere. The mayor is probably scared that his wagon-drive

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an A-B-C on the thousands of words President Eisenhower and Russian Premier Bulganin wrote each other in the past month. Their subject: How to have a summit conference to talk peace and disarmament.

A conference still looks far off because they don't agree on how to have it.

Bulganin wants a meeting at the top, period. Eisenhower is cool towards it unless there is adequate preparation. For example: a meeting of foreign ministers.

But this is a basic stumbling block to any agreement on disarmament. This country insists there must first be agreement on a foolproof inspection system to prevent cheating. The Russians haven't agreed.

Bulganin wrote Eisenhower Dec. 10 and again Jan. 9. The second letter covered pretty much the same ground as the first, with a few additions. Eisenhower's letter, delivered to Moscow Jan. 12, was a reply to Bulganin's first letter.

Bulganin insisted Dec. 10: The United States, Britain and Russia should refrain from using nuclear weapons; the United States and its European NATO allies should sign a nonaggression pact with Russia and its satellites in the Warsaw alliance; the United States and Russia should pledge themselves not to interfere in the Middle East and to renounce the use of force to settle Middle East problems; and the United States and Russia should sign a treaty of friendship and cooperation.

Eisenhower replied: All those points were already impliedly agreed to in the charter of the United Nations in which the United States, Russia and all the others are members. If all sides lived PERFUME — Perfume is stronger than cologne. Use it as the final fragrance touch, after first spraying cologne to pulse spots.

Nothing Like Fragrance To Make You Feminine

By JEANNE D'ARCY (King Features Syndicate)

Cologne is not perfume and vice versa! Still, many women get the two confused.

They spray on cologne or toilet water daily, thinking they're being thrifty by saving their perfume for special occasions.

They're not! Perfume doesn't improve with time. Instead, it breaks down and the fragrance disintegrates.

The difference between cologne and perfume is this: Cologne was meant to form a foundation for perfume. It sets the groundwork for the more potent fragrance.

To use fragrance properly, follow this routine: Slather on cologne when you're dressing. Use it liberally from head to toe.

For the final touch, put a few drops of perfume on pulse spots—the inside of wrists, the bend of the elbows, the hollow of the throat, at temples, behind the

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Archers Entertain Crusaders Class

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Archer were hosts for the January meeting of the Crusaders Class of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church. Devotions were led by Dale DeLong. The president, Mrs. Archer, gave a summary of last year's activities, commending the group for their numerous benevolent projects.

For the next meeting plans were made for a "Sight Unseen Sale", where an article is placed in a large paper bag and bidders buy on the basis of what they guess to be on the inside.

The social activities were led by Mrs. Clark Zwyer. Price winners were Mrs. Earl Millions and Dale DeLong. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. An old-fashioned taffy pull was the concluding activity of the evening.

Middletown '5' Voted Tops in Ohio Cage Poll

Mighty Middies Sport Undefeated String of 63 over 3 Campaigns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middle-

town's Class AA basketball championship the last two years, are still Ohio's cage kings.

Coach Paul Walker's classy crew, headed by fabulous Jerry Lucas whose grades are as high as his 6 foot 10 pate, today won the season's first Associated Press sports writers' poll in a landslide.

Over the weekend the Middies whipped Springfield, 83-51, and Lima, 67-54. Those two conquests: Boosted Middletown's season record to 11-0.

Ran the Middies' undefeated string to 63 over three campaigns; And set the stage for Friday night's climactic contest with second place Hamilton (8-0) in Cincinnati Gardens before some 10,000 fans.

Lucas, who holds every record in state tournament play, was held to a single free throw in the first period against Springfield, but had scored 30 at the finish.

Against Lima, where he was surrounded by six-foot-plus opponents, he wound up with 16 points — the lowest he's ever scored while going the entire route. Lima also held him a full quarter — the third — to a single free throw. Hamilton last year held the big boy scoreless in one quarter.

The tall youngster, being wooed by more than 100 colleges, ran his 11-game scoring record to 325 points in the two weekend tilts, an average of 29.5 — somewhat off his lifetime average. He's never played in a losing game in junior high or high school, and in the 63-game winning streak as a varsity member he's flipped 1,985 points through the hoop — an average of 31.5.

Back of Middletown and Hamilton, the perennial Butler County powerhouses, is unbeaten Zanesville, winner of 10 in a row. Next in line are Cleveland East Tech, Toledo Scott, and Columbus North, all with unsullied records. Then come once-beaten Canton McKinley, Youngstown South with a 9-0 mark, and Toledo Macomber and Canton South, each beaten once.

From Here and There: No tabulation of the Class A teams was made in the first week's poll because of sparse voting in that sector, but the smaller schools will be rated in ensuing balloting.

Among the teams gaining praise in Class A are Glenford, winner in 15 of 16 tilts during Coach Don Rushing's seven-season reign. Coalton (12-0) and Sabina (10-0) are other highly rated quintets, along with once-beaten Columbiana, Goshen - Union, Hartford, Bristol, New Boston, and Lancaster St. Mary.

With Middletown seeking its third straight crown, and most of its hopes hanging on Jerry Lucas, Jerry's dad has decreed that no college representatives may talk to his son until after graduation in June. The boy wants to participate in the spring sports program before being bothered by recruiters — and his straight-A grades are good enough for an academic scholarship no matter where he decides to go.

Among the unbeaten Class AA teams failing to make the top 10 are Toledo St. Francis (7-0), Salem (6-0), Poland (6-0), Cadiz (7-0) and St. Clairsville (6-0). Once-beaten teams include Cleveland St. Ignatius, Ironton, Youngstown Chaney, Liberty, Bexley and Dayton Belmont.

Here is how Ohio sports rate the top Class AA basketball teams in the state. Shown are first place votes in parentheses with the top ten's scoring records.

Record Speeds At '500' Expected

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Tony Hulman, president of Indianapolis Motor Speedway, predicted a record-breaking 500-mile race May 30 as entry blanks were mailed to car owners today.

He said the engineers and mechanics will have the benefit of last year's experience with smaller engines. The maximum piston displacement was cut almost 10 per cent after the 1956 race.

Led by Sam Hanks at 136.6 miles an hour, the first 11 cars in the 1957 race were faster than the

West Virginia Easily Keeps Top Poll Post

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Powerful West Virginia, one of the few unbeaten major college teams, remains No. 1 for the fourth successive week in the Associated Press poll.

Sports writers gave West Virginia 68 of the 104 first-place votes. No one else was close.

The Mountaineers romped over George Washington Saturday for their 12th consecutive victory and 28th in a row in the Southern Conference.

On a basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second and so on, West Virginia amassed 941 points. Second-place Kansas State, with only four firsts, had 590 points. Kansas was right behind with 586 points for third place and six firsts.

Although San Francisco had nine first places, second only to West Virginia, it finished fourth with 532 points after a week in which the Dons whipped Santa Clara and College of the Pacific.

Fifth-place Cincinnati bowed to Oklahoma State last week, then poured it on to swamp Seton Hall and finished by running up 127 points against North Texas.

The North Carolina team that bowed to Maryland 74-61 for its second time in two years, dropped from third to sixth place.

Oklahoma State advanced to seventh place. Maryland took 8th. Kentucky clung to ninth by whipping Vanderbilt and Louisiana State, and Bradley held 10th by taking two from Houston.

Ohio College Cagers Win Tilts at Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Home teams had a field day Monday. All of them, in five basketball games involving Ohio college teams, coasted to victories.

Ohio State, which has discovered that height isn't everything in basketball, dropped its ninth game in 11 starts (two out of three in the Big Ten), this time losing to Michigan 72-63 at Ann Arbor.

The real scoring, however, remained with the Cincinnati Bearcats and Oscar Robertson. The Bearcats dumped Houston 93-57 and Robertson, the nation's leading scorer, got 37.

Elsewhere, Steubenville, the state's winningest cage team, made it No. 15 for the year with an 85-57 sweep of Youngstown. Th Barons have lost only one.

Youngstown is now 10-3. John Carroll extended its winning streak to three games as it defeated Penn College, 91-72.

John Stavoie paced the Blue Streaks' scoring with 35 points. Fenn's John Harper had 25 and Bob Kulskis added 22 more for the losers.

Central State went to Anderson, Ind., to make up a game which was postponed Dec. 3 and lost, 100-70. It was Central's sixth loss in eight starts.

Ring Bout Voted As Top Oddity

NEW YORK (AP) — On June 19, 1957, a Seattle promoter revealed that Floyd Patterson and Pete Rademacher had been matched for a title bout.

Today, the pairing of the heavyweight boxing champion of the world and an Olympic titleholder was tabbed as the sports oddity of the year in the annual Associated Press year-end poll of sportswriters.

It went into the books as a unique get-together. For never in boxing history had an Olympic champion fought for a world crown in his first pro outing.

previous record, Bill Vukovich's 130.8 of 1954.

Knapp Holds Lead In Scoring Race

Roger Knapp pulled away from the field this week as he scored 68 points in two games on 23 field goals and 22 free throws for a 34 point average.

This increased his overall average to 26.6, a raise of .9 of a point. He was the guiding light in Scioto's 102-60 victory over Canal Winchester. He hit from all over the court and was especially effective on drive-ins.

Darby's Ronnie Guthel held a narrow .7 of a point over third place as he only scored 28 points in two games last week. Guthel's average dropped 1.9 of a point and he holds an overall average of 21.7 for second.

The Trojan ace ran into two difficult defenses this past week and had a concentrated effort installed against him. More and more teams are pointing to holding him down on scoring and even though they lose, if Guthel is held they consider it a successful night.

NEW Holland's John Lininger owns third place with a 21 point average, an increase of 1.3 of a point. This increase was due to the fact that John tallied 33 points in the Dutchmen's 66 to 36 slaughter of Saltcreek last Friday night.

Ned Musselman, who is steadily creeping up on teammate Guthel, was stymied somewhat in his attempt this week as he dropped .7 of a point scoring 34 points in this past week for a 17 point average. Musselman holds down fourth position with a 19.8 average.

Chubby Dave Myers, the Deer-creek flash, moved into fifth place with an 18.6 average and an increase of almost a point. Myers was extremely hot Friday night scoring 28 points as Williamsport dropped a hardfought 61-77 battle to Ashville.

Saltcreek's Gary Valentine moved from fifth position to sixth with an 18.2 average. Valentine's average took a half a point dip this week as he was held to 12 points in the Warriors' loss to New Holland.

Jackson's Chuck Galloway remains in seventh place with a 17.1 average, dropping .4 of a point as he tallied only 31 points in two contests last week. Galloway, though held to a 15 point average ably assisted the Wildcats to their second and third consecutive victories.

Ashville's Bobby Hoover dropped almost a point but still managed to hang on to eighth position as his rebounding has been instrumental in Ashville's fourth and fifth consecutive victories.

NINTH place was nailed down by Saltcreek's Fred Murray who has managed to stay in the top 10 throughout the season. Even with Murray's return to the Warrior lineup, they haven't fared too well, holding a 2-4 record in league play and a tie for eighth place.

Scioto's Gary Clark rounds out the top 10 with a 14.4 average as he garnered 36 points in two games last week for an 18 point average. Clark along with 20th ranked Dickie Melvin, 11.8, are making the Buffaloes a coming ball club that needs to be watched closely by the Darby Trojans, who will meet them in the final week of league action.

Ashville's Dick Hoover moved from 16th position into 11th with a 38 point spurge in two games last week and now sports a 13.5 average. Teammate Don Rathburn took over 12th place with a 13.2 average and an indication that the Broncos are assuming that usual trend of dominating Pickaway County basketball.

Pickaway's Eddie Evans dropped from 11th to 13th and carries a 13 point average. Danny Stone, the Walnut mainstay, moved into 14th place after entering the top 20 for the first time last week.

Jackson's Carpenter returns to the top 20 after a week's absence with a 12.1 average, good for 18th position.

Scioto, Ashville and Walnut place three men in the top 20 and Darby again has two men fighting for first place, holding second and fourth positions.

U.S. Ski Jump Team Preps For Championship in Finland

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP) — A United States ski jumping team mixed with veterans and youngsters will try to make a creditable showing against Europe's best in the world championships in March at Finland.

Olav Ulland, the 47-year-old coach who came to this country from Norway in 1938 and settled in Seattle, is the first to admit that by continued training the new team should make the best impression of any U. S. jumping squad to go against the perfectionists of Scandinavia.

"The Norwegians, Swedes, Finlanders, Danes, Germans and now the Russians are conditioned the year around," says Ulland. "Now here we are with a mere two weeks of solid organized training behind us and plenty more to learn. So you can't expect us to be world championship contenders... but I think we'll make the best American showing yet."

The six-man team, determined on point totals based on a best six-out-of-nine jumps in trials which ended Sunday at Suicide Hill, included:

Norway-born Ansten Samuelstuen of Denver, 28, current national ski jumping champion.

Art Tolle, 35, of Lake Telemark in New Jersey, 1952 U. S. Olympic team member.

Dick Rahoi, 23, of Iron Mountain, Mich.

Jim Houst, 21, also from Iron Mountain.

Middletown '5' West Virginia Easily Keeps Top Poll Post

Mighty Middies Sport Undefeated String of 63 over 3 Campaigns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middle of the state Class AA basketball championship the last two years, are still Ohio's cage kings.

Coach Paul Walker's classy crew, headed by fabulous Jerry Lucas whose grades are as high as his 6 foot 10 pate, today won the season's first Associated Press sportswriters' poll in a landslide.

Over the weekend the Middies whipped Springfield, 83-51, and Lima, 67-54. Those two conquests: Boosted Middletown's season record to 11-0.

Ran the Middies' undefeated string to 63 over three campaigns: And set the stage for Friday night's climactic contest with second place Hamilton (8-0) in Cincinnati Gardens before some 10,000 fans.

Lucas, who holds every record in state tournament play, was held to a single free throw in the first period against Springfield, but had scored 30 at the finish.

Against Lima, where he was surrounded by six-foot-plus opponents, he wound up with 16 points — the lowest he's ever scored while going the entire route. Lima also held him a full quarter — the third — to a single free throw. Hamilton last year held the big boy scoreless in one quarter.

The tall youngster, being wooed by more than 100 colleges, ran his 11-game scoring record to 325 points in the two weekend tilts, an average of 29.5 — somewhat off his lifetime average. He's never played in a losing game in junior high or high school, and in the 63-game winning streak as a varsity member he's flipped 1,985 points through the hoop — an average of 31.5.

Back of Middletown and Hamilton, the perennial Butler County powerhouses, is unbeaten Zanesville, winner of 10 in a row. Next in line are Cleveland East Tech, Toledo Scott, and Columbus North, all with unsullied records. Then come once-beaten Canton McKinley, Youngstown South with a 9-0 mark, and Toledo Macomber and Canton South, each beaten once.

From Here and There: No tabulation of the Class A teams was made in the first week's poll because of sparse voting in that sector, but the smaller schools will be rated in ensuing balloting.

Among the teams gaining praise in Class A are Glenford, winner of 13 straight this year and victor in 150 of 169 tilts during Coach Don Rushing's seven-season reign. Coaltion (12-0) and Sabina (10-0) are other highly rated quintets, along with once-beaten Columbiana, Goshen - Union, Hartford, Bristol, New Boston, and Lancaster St. Mary.

With Middletown seeking its third straight crown, and most of its hopes hanging on Jerry Lucas, Jerry's dad has decreed that no college representatives may talk to his son until after graduation in June. The boy wants to participate in the spring sports program before being bothered by recruiters — and his straight-A grades are good enough for an academic scholarship no matter where he decides to go.

Among the unbeaten Class AA teams failing to make the top 10 are Toledo St. Francis (7-0), Salem (6-0), Poland (6-0), Cadiz (7-0) and St. Clairsville (6-0). Once-beaten teams include Cleveland St. Ignatius, Ironton, Youngstown Chaney, Liberty, Bexley and Dayton Belmont.

Here is how Ohio sports rate the top Class AA basketball teams in the state. Shown are first place votes in parentheses with the top ten's scoring records.

Record Speeds At '500' Expected

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Tony Hulman, president of Indianapolis Motor Speedway, predicted a record-breaking 500-mile race May 30 as entry blanks were mailed to car owners today.

He said the engineers and mechanics will have the benefit of last year's experience with smaller engines. The maximum piston displacement was cut almost 10 per cent after the 1956 race.

Led by Sam Hanks at 136.6 miles an hour, the first 11 cars in the 1957 race were faster than the previous record, Bill Vukovich's 130.8 of 1954.

Knapp Holds Lead In Scoring Race

Roger Knapp pulled away from the field this week as he scored 68 points in two games on 23 field goals and 22 free throws for a 34 point average.

This increased his overall average to 26.6, a raise of .9 of a point. He was the guiding light in Scioto's 102-60 victory over Canal Winchester. He hit from all over the court and was especially effective on drive-ins.

The Trojan ace ran into two difficult defenses this past week and had a concentrated effort installed against him. More and more teams are pointing to holding him down on scoring and even though they lose, if Gutheil is held they consider it a successful night.

NEW Holland's John Lininger owns third place with a 21 point average, an increase of 1.3 of a point. This increase was due to the fact that John tallied 33 points in the Dutchmen's 66 to 36 slaughter of Sateerick last Friday night.

Ned Musselman, who is steadily creeping up on teammate Gutheil, was stymied somewhat in his attempt this week as he dropped 7 of a point scoring 34 points this past week for a 17 point average. Musselman holds down fourth position with a 19.8 average.

Chubby Dave Myers, the Deer-creek flash, moved into fifth place with an 18.6 average and an increase of almost a point. Myers was extremely hot Friday night scoring 28 points as Williamsport dropped a hardfought 61-77 battle to Ashville.

Saltcreek's Gary Valentine moved from fifth position to sixth with an 18.2 average. Valentine's average took a half a point dip this week as he was held to 12 points in the Warriors' loss to New Holland.

Jackson's Chuck Galloway remains in seventh place with a 17.1 average, dropping 4 of a point as he tamed only 31 points in two contests last week. Galloway, though held to a 15 point average ably assisted the Wildcats to their second and third consecutive victories.

Ashville's Bobby Hoover dropped almost a point but still managed to hang on to eighth position as his rebounding has been instrumental in Ashville's fourth and fifth consecutive victories.

NINTH place was nailed down by Saltcreek's Fred Murray who has managed to stay in the top 10 throughout the season. Even with Murray's return to the Warrior lineup, they haven't fared too well, holding a 2-4 record in league play and a tie for eighth place.

Scioto's Gary Clark rounds out the top 10 with a 14.4 average as he garnered 36 points in two games last week for an 18 point average. Clark along with 20th ranked Dickie Melvin, 11.8, are making the Buffaloes a coming ball club that needs to be watched closely by the Darby Trojans, who will meet them in the final week of league action.

Ashville's Dick Hoover moved from 16th position into 11th with a 38 point spurge in two games last week and now sports a 13.5 average. Teammate Don Rathburn took over 12th place with a 13.2 average and an indication that the Broncos are assuming that usual trend of dominating Pickaway County basketball.

Pickaway's Eddie Evans dropped from 11th to 13th and carries a 13 point average. Danny Slone, the Walnut mainstay, moved into 14th place after entering the top 20 for the first time last week.

Jackson's Carpenter returns to the top 20 after a week's absence with a 12.1 average, good for 18th position. Scioto, Ashville and Walnut place three men in the top 20 and Darby again has two men fighting for first place, holding second and fourth positions.

Balanced Attack Swamps OSU '5'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's balanced scoring attack proved the difference in a rough Big Ten basketball game here Monday night. The Wolverines whipped Ohio State, 72-63, in the final 10 minutes after the lead changed hands 15 times.

Michigan's George Lee teamed with Pete Tilton, the game's high scorer, and M. C. Burton, whose two free throws put Michigan ahead to stay, to give a demonstration of balanced scoring that the visiting Buckeyes could not match.

Frank Howard and Joe Carlson scored 14 points apiece for Ohio State, which dropped its second Big Ten game in three days. Michigan is now 3-1.

WHILE CAR PRICES WENT UP THROUGHOUT THE INDUSTRY, THE PRICE OF THIS CAR WENT DOWN

Here's good news for people who are tired of reading about higher prices for 1958 cars: Ford has priced many of its new '58 models lower than corresponding 1957 models!

In fact, Ford Custom 300's are priced as much as $50 lower than last year. This is based on an actual comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices.

Who'd ever guess it's the lowest priced of the low-price three

In case you haven't yet gotten around to pricing this elegantly styled 58 Ford Custom 300, put your mind at ease. When you compare manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices, you'll find that this Ford is priced lower than any sedan in its field. And Ford has the lowest-priced station wagon and convertible, too!

But price isn't everything. The 58 Ford made history, too, as the first car ever to use the whole world as its test track! This meant taking the all-new Interceptor V-8, combining it with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive, and tackling some of the roughest roads we could find on three continents. This terrific power team (available with up to 300 hp) proved that it can handle any driving you'll ever have to do... while saving you up to 15% on gas! Start your savings for '58 with a lower-priced Ford!
